The Songs Became the Stories: The Music in African American Fiction 1970-2005 is a sequel to The Music in African American Fiction which traced the representation of music in fiction from its mid nineteenth century roots in slave narratives through the Black Arts Movement of the 1960s. The Songs Became the Stories continues the historical critical and musicological analyses of the first book through an examination of many of the major figures in African American fiction over the past thirty five years including Ishmael Reed Toni Morrison Ntozake Shange Nathaniel Mackey Alice Walker Albert Murray and John Edgar Wideman. The volume also includes an extensive annotated discography and excerpts from first hand interviews with major African American musical artists.

Earth 2033 in a recently declassified location something has crash landed something not of this world an intrepid UFO investigator pieces together a report that could change the course of human history that report is The UFO Files committed to developing frameworks for defining and evaluating Black poetry literary scholar Stephen E. Henderson 1925-1997 examined the question what makes a poem Black in his critical approach Henderson prioritized form but not at the expense of source function or context and in so doing developed convincing theoretical frameworks for examining African American lyric expressions especially that of Black Arts poets. Black Saturation: Selected Works of Stephen E. Henderson is designed to expand and enrich understandings of Henderson's critical corpus by showcasing many of his most essential essays presentations and syllabi in a standalone volume. Henderson deftly conceptualized the ways in which aesthetic innovations were interwoven with revolutionary exigencies a marriage of poetry and politics that became a hallmark of the 1960s and 70s while other critics often ignored or fumbled to construct an adequate rubric for evaluating and celebrating black arts poetry penned by amiri baraka carolyn rodgers sonia sanchez jayne cortez mari evans sarah webster fabio haki madhubuti and larry neal among many others henderson constellated a triad of interdependent characteristics structure theme and saturation through which he examined black literature in general and poetry in particular revisiting henderson s scholarship in the third decade of the twenty first century allows us on the one hand to further appreciate his imprint on current scholarship about black literature especially poetry and on the other to introduce contemporary students and scholars to his salient theoretical frameworks not to mention his persuasive critical style despite their literary and cultural significance afro latino memoirs have been marginalized in both latino and african american studies trent masiki remedies this problem by bringing critical attention to the understudied african american influences in afro latino memoirs published after the advent of the black arts movement masiki argues that these memoirs expand on the meaning of racial identity for both latinos and african americans using interpretive strategies and historical methods from literary and cultural studies masiki shows how afro latino memoir writers often turn to the african american experience as a model for articulating their afro latinidad african american literary production expressive culture political ideology and religiosity shaped afro latino subjectivity more profoundly than typically imagined between the post war and post soul eras masiki recovers this neglected history by exploring how and why black nationalism shaped afro latinidad in the united states this book opens the border between the canons of latino and african american literature encouraging greater intercultural solidarities between latinos and african americans in the era of black lives matter
